COPPER KING LAWSON'S WITTY CALENDAR ON WALL STREET.

Famous Speculator's Potpourri of Wisdom, Humor, Sarcasm and Troops in Pekin Without Artillery Philosophy Has Aroused Great Interest Among the Millionaires and Brokers.

SOME SCINTILLANT EPIGRAMS CULLED FROM "TICKER TALK."

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, Dec. 29.-"It is no longer the Lawson yacht, nor the Lawson carnation, but the Lawson autograph calendar. Friends of the Boston millionaire received copies of this literary production on Christmas Day, and they declare that Mr. Law-Success.

Each calendar is handsomely mounted in silver and ornamented with devices which present a complete allegory of that whirlpool of speculation which threatened not many days ago to inguif the author. Emulation in the case of Each calendar is handsomely mounted in blazoned upon the fifty-two tablets, one for each week of the year 1902-is a potpourri of wit and wisdom, humor, sareasm and the philosophy of experience, under the cap-

Recent happenings on the Stock Exchange are referred to and Mr. Lawson has introduced a prophecy concerning the future of certain securities which will be of interest to the financial world. Nothing more or nate than the Lawson calendar has thus far appeared. The tablets revolve upon silver rings, which, in turn, are supported by a silver bar about ten inches in length, beautifully decorated with mistletoe and holly in dull silver. Upon one end of the bar a bull is seen in a crouching attitude facing a bear at the other extremity.

Above the bear and supporting it is a ribbon of silver, representing the tape of a stock ticker and secured at the apex by a ring, in which are interwoven a wishone, a horseshoe and the proverbial lamb of Wall street. Completes Calendar in Four Days.

In the author's note Mr. Lawson explains that he completed his calendar, which contains a maxim for each day of the coming year, in four days, on a wager with a friend, The introductory is as follows:

"When you read these 'tickerings' and are self sufficiently to think how he came to

as every one knows, the ticker was doing its best to drive Bostonians into that region controlled by the sulphur trust, I asked one of my brokers, a philosophical kind of a chap, what, in his opinion, would be the best way to coax the 'ticker' away from the 'coppers.' He answered: 'Between now and New Year's make the ticker talk something and the State Retail Druggists' Association by retail druggists who are not members of the State organization.

It is complained that because these independent druggists have declined to join the general organization and thus enter into a combination to maintain an established price for patent medicines, soaps and other articles, the wholesale druggists of the State have refused to sell them medicines. for every day in the year.'

"His thought struck me as being so good dar and have it ready for Christmas? The result was a wager that this could not be accomplished during the 'ticker's' working hours in the four days intervening. "Here it is on Christmas Eve, with apoiogles of the 'ticker' and the season's best wishes of yours very truly,
"THOMAS W. LAWSON."

Fundamentals of Speculation.

Mr. Lawson, in introducing his maxims for January, says there are three fundamentals of stock speculation, which he described as follows:

you liked it. Never for an instant forget it's a game of chance, and, while it's free, no one is compelled to come into it. "2. When you lose the other fellow wins; and he is as much entitled to it as you.

cause it in time gets the entire stake through its commission. Wall street is the gamekeeper and referee. All interesting games must, will and do have them. Wall street was there before you were born and will be after you are dead." In connection with the author's characterization of himself as the "Ticker," these extracts from his calendar are interesting for their annual or semiannual terms. Last be under the direction of Bishop John Jansfiercely until the holidays between the coning forces in the copper industry. "Wall street is now the exact center of the

No. 26 Broadway is the headquarters of the Standard Oil Company; J. P. Morgan & Co.'s offices are at Wall and Broad

In lighter vein Mr. Lawson describes the pitfalls of speculation. For each day of the year he has produced an epigram. The whole makes an interesting volume, from which these extracts were chosen at random;

"On New Year's Eve Father Time and the new-born cherub meet in Trinity Church to make deliveries. The meeting place is an appropriate one; at the foot of Wall street is the river, at the head Trinity's grave-yard, and in the middle the Stock Exchange.

"Wall street on dry days amuses itself by soaking the public—also on wet days and other days.
"Directorahips in trusts carry with them sacred duties, hard work and no emolument. There are exceptions where directors are dilatory in operating on their advance knowledge, thereby taking even chances with the stockholders. They are rare excep-tions, and when discovered are dropped. Ticker Rests to Bury Victims. "The ticker rests upon the Sabbath day to bury its victims.

"A trust is a modern skyscraper with a foundation of water, no windows, and the roof in the cellar.

"Panics fall alike upon the shorn and the to-be shorn.

"The ticker first asks, 'What do you think I'm going to say?' then says the opposite.

"The ticker arst asys, what do you think I'm going to say? then says the opposite.

"The public brings its wealth to Wall street, and, owing to the frictionless workings of the most perfect financial system in the world, it can at any time get back its equivalent in one form or another—usually and sold for the public. organization on January 26, when officers will be elected for the coming year. After some discussion it was decided that an intervening meeting should be held, since last night's attendance was notw hat had been expected. The date for the latter meeting was set for the evening of January 12.

Circulars have been sent out by the union cauter the attention of the pastors of all Catholic parishes and of the presidents of Catholic societies to the coming reorganization of the union and the election of officers. Judge Thomas Morris, president of the union, hopes that this year's St. Patrick's Day parade will eclipse all former parades, but says that this result depends upon the united action of all the parishes and societies. Delegates from societies for 1902 are requested to present their credentials two weeks hence, if possible, or to send them to the secretary of the union before the meeting of January 26. Additional Chinese Troops.

Two thousand additional Chinese troops entered Pekin last Friday.

The Austrians have mounted two large guns upon the fortifications surrounding their legation. The other foreign legations keep their guns concealed. Although the British are well supplied with artillery and the Germans occasionals, can be seen dell. British are well supplied with artillery and the Germans occasionally can be seen drilling on their Glacis with field and rapid-firing guns, the Americans, who hold the crucial position at the Cham-Men Gate, are not supplied with artillery. With the approval of American Minister Conger, Major Robertson of the Ninth Infantry, commanding the Legation Guard, applied to the War Department for two guns. This application was refused, because when the department consulted with Rockhill, special Commissioner of the United States here, on the matter, the latter replied that the artillery was not needed, and that its presence would be harmful.

At New-Chwang the Russians have secured control of the telegraphs and cables. This action on the part of Russia is causing disputes between that country and the foreign consuls at New-Chwang.

Civil and Military Authorities Reported to Be in Perfect Accord.

Manila, Dec. 29.-General Chaffee, when questioned to-day by the cerrespondent of the Associated Press concerning the alleged friction between the civil and military authorities in the Philippine archipeiago, said that no such friction existed and that perfect harmony prevailed between the two authorities. General Chaffee said that the only occasion when there had been anything approaching friction was in the matter of approaching friction was in the matter of habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Oakley Brooks and that upon this occasion a solution of the difficulty satisfactory to both authorities had been found. General Chaffee said that he and the members of the commission had at times differed in their views, but that these differences were of nursely personal entities.

the commission had at times differed in their views, but that these differences were of purely personal opinion.

He said that the relations with Governor Tatt and Acting Governor Wright and the other Commissioners were both officially and socially extremely pleasant, and he thought that the published statement of friction between the civil and military authorities here must have resulted from a misunderstanding of the facts of the case. General Chaffee further explained that every time the slightest friction had arisen in the Provinces between the two authorities he had invariably ordered the military to surrender to the civil authority and said that the relations of these authorities throughout the Provinces, where they frequently hold widely opposite opinions, would m no way interrupt the existing cordial relations at Manila, where both were working toward the same goal, namely the sudfication and welfare of the Philippine Archipelago.

General Chaffee concluded by saying that he thought the prospect of substate, the insurrection in all places to be greaters.

When Acting Governor Wright was questioned on this same matter he said:
"Where men of sense are at the head of affairs, there is not likely to be much cause for alarm or friction."
Governor Wright has a great admiration for General Chaffee, whom he considers to be a main of sound common sense. He said that although he and General Cheffee frequently differed radically upon various subjects, still most amicable relations were maintained under all circumstances.

WAGON STRUCK BY STREET CAR. Northbound Suburban Crashes Into Vehicle, Injuring Woman.

Mrs. Amanda Jordan of Hollow, St. Louis County, was seriously injured Saturday by the wagon in which she was riding being struck by a northbound Suburban car at the Manchester road junction. She and her brither-in-law, William Nierr, were in the wagon and started to cross the tracks, thinking they could do so in time. They got part way, when the car struck the wehicle, completely demolishing it and throwing Mrs. Jordan and her brother-in-law out. The latter escaped without a scrutch. One of the horses was killed.
